1. Welcome and Previous meeting minutes

Martin Maticka (AEMO) opened the meeting at 1:05 pm, welcomed attendees to WAGCF No.16.

The minutes from the previous WAGCF (22 July 2020) were endorsed. AEMO to publish the minutes as final on the website (Action Item 1.1).

2. GSI Zones Review

David Dixon (AEMO) presented a summary of the 2020 GBB \(WA\) Zones Review report published on 11 November 2020, explaining the background of the review, the analysis conducted from the review, key finds and recommendations, and the next steps.

3. 2020 WEM Gas Statement of Opportunities (GSOO) Draft Forecasts and Key Findings

Rebecca Petchey and Deborah Marsh (AEMO) provided a development update on the 2020 WA GSOO, discussing:

- Preliminary key findings
- Gas demand – forecast methodology, assumptions and draft forecasts
- Potential gas supply – forecast methodology, assumptions and draft forecasts
- Preliminary draft supply – demand balance and;
- Next steps

Key topics raised by stakeholders during this section included:

Mark Riley (AGL): Are the different consumption drivers listed / compared to east coast

- AEMO: The demand methodology paper would list the different consumption drivers. The composition of WA's gas consumption is very different to the east coast. Most of WA's consumption is in the mining and minerals processing sectors, with residential/small commercial accounting for only around 3.5% of domestic gas demand. While the drivers for that sector are similar to the east coast (e.g. weather effects, customer numbers), the drivers for the mining and minerals processing sectors depend largely on global commodity markets. The commodity forecasts that are an input into the consumption forecasts and, the economic forecasts are also published on AEMO's website.

Richard Beverley (Alinta): What is the reduction in gas usage (in TJ/d) for gas fired generation as a result of the increase in large scale renewable projects?

- AEMO: The decline is about 35 TJ/day for SWIS GPG between 2020 and 2021

Dominic Rodwell (Citic Pacific Mining): With the recent house construction data coming to light 75,000 new houses approved for construction) has the impact of gas consumption of new dwellings been included for the 5-year period?

- The impact of housing growth is included in the residential consumption forecast. Housing stock forecasts are considered as an input into the residential gas consumption model with our housing stock model projecting between 49,000 and 102,000 new houses in WA over the next 5 years across the scenarios.

Quentin Jeay (Kleenheat): Has a carbon pricing scheme been somehow included in the modelling as it would surely impact the gas market?

- AEMO: Not explicitly.

4. The Year it's been – 2020 Highlights

Lauren Ashby, Martin Maticka and Rebecca Petchey (AEMO) presented some of the highlights from 2020 including:

- Registrations and new connections
- GBB System Updates
- 2020 Observations
- Gas Services Information – FY20 Actual vs Budget and;
- 2020 WA GSOO development

5. Other business

Dominic Rodwell (Citic Pacific Mining) asked: What happened to the planned reconciliation of the reservation policy gas delivery obligations in history.

Due to technical difficulty, the Department of Jobs, Tourism, Science and Innovation (JTSI) wasn't able to respond in real time and has provided the following response:

- After initial consultation with key stakeholders, the Annual Statement on WA domestic gas commitments hasn't progressed further due to JTSI's other domestic gas priorities.

No other business was raised.

6. Next Meeting

Martin Maticka (AEMO) closed the meeting at 2:15 pm.
